

REASONS FOR THE CYBER BULLYING – ERASMUS +

- Every day, cyber bullying impacts kids all over the world. In fact, there is no question that this growing issue must be addressed. But to put an end to online bullying you must first understand why kids are doing it.

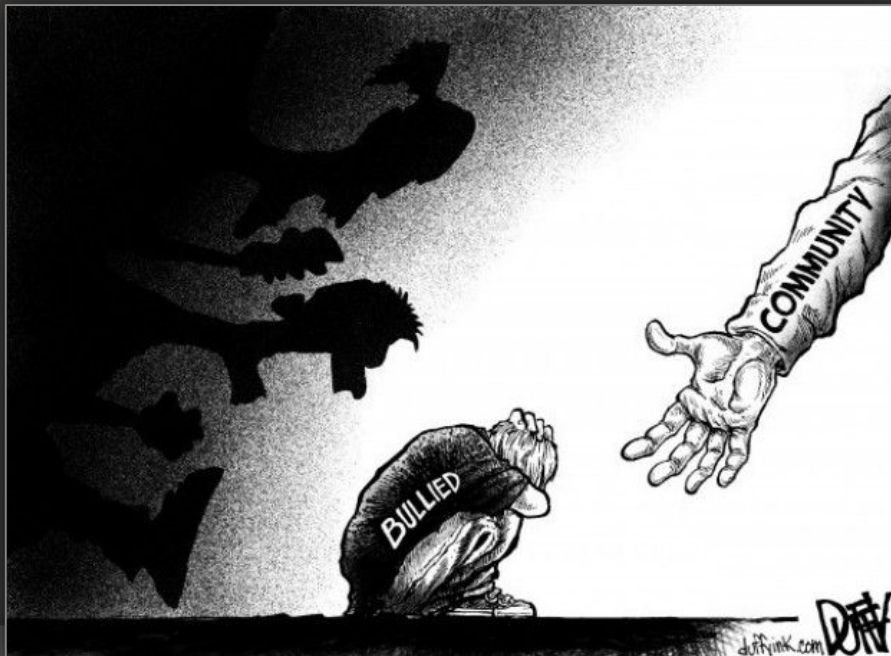

1. Cyber Bullies Are Motivated by Revenge

- -seeking revenge instead of coping with the situation in healthier ways
- -retaliating for the pain they have experienced
- -bully-victims

2. Cyber Bullies Believe the Victim Deserves It

- -based on the school's perceived social ladder
- - warranted and deserved
- -not feeling remorse or guilt for cyber bullying

3. Cyber Bullies Are Bored

- -looking for entertainment
- -adding some excitement and drama to their lives
- -lacking attention and supervision from parents

4. Cyber Bullies Cave Under Peer Pressure

- -fitting in with a group of friends or a clique
- -a false sense of security in numbers

5. Cyber Bullies Think Everyone Is Doing It

- -it doesn't seem like a significant problem because their peer group accepts the behavior
- -regularly harassing people online

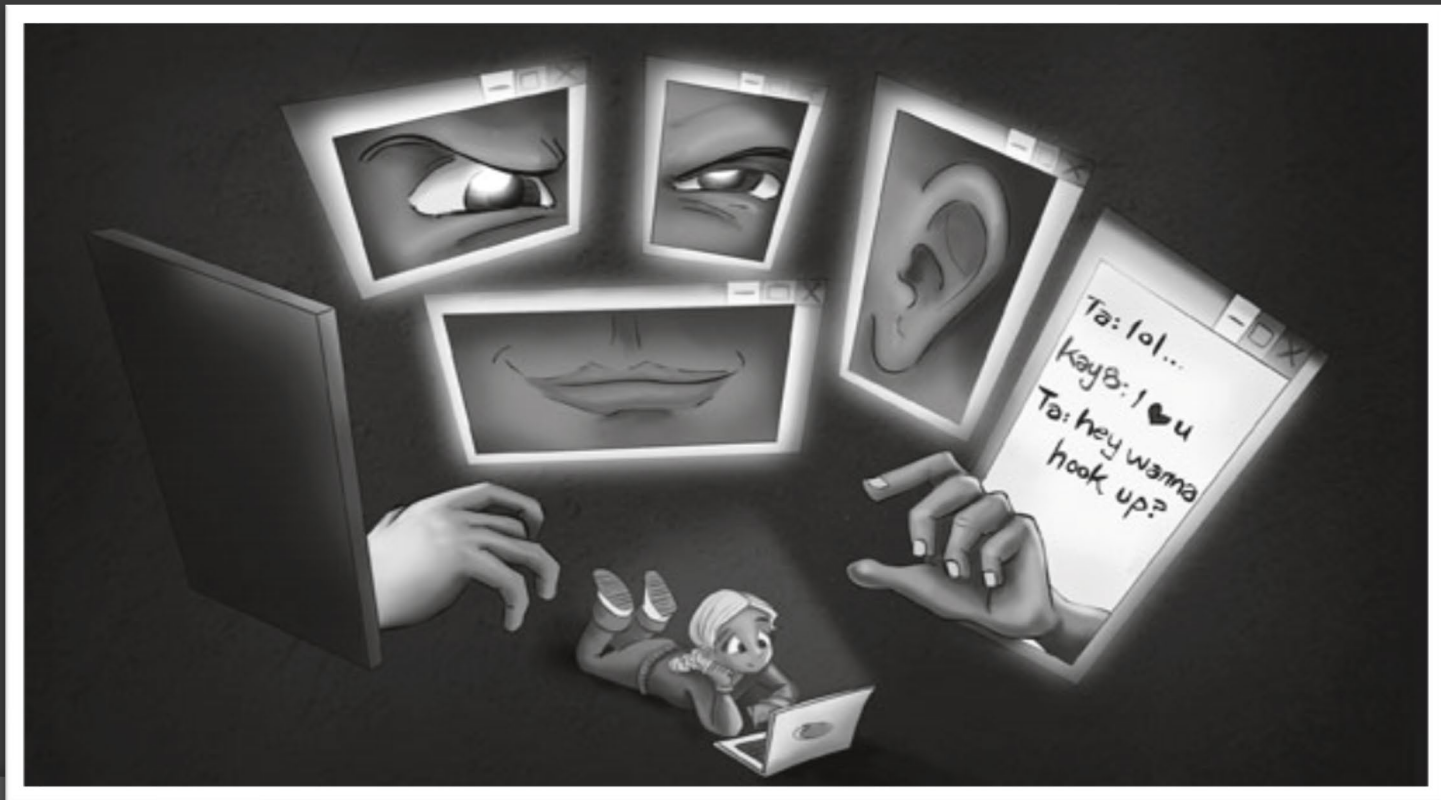

6. Cyber Bullies Are Power Hungry

- -kids who are popular often make fun of kids who are less popular
- -kids who are trying to climb the social ladder at school or gain some social power will resort to cyber bullying to get attention

7. Cyber Bullies Believe They Won't Get Caught

- -a false sense of security
- -bully face-to-face

8. Cyber Bullies Lack Empathy

- - “It isn’t a big deal!”
- -feeling little to no remorse for their actions
- -not feeling anything for the victims after bullying online
- -Funny, popular, and powerful?
